

Jeffrey L. Oris, CEcD
PLACE Planning & Design, Inc.
North Palm Beach, FL

Jeffrey L. Oris, CEcD is currently an Executive Consultant with PLACE Planning & Design, Inc., a North Palm Beach, Florida, a concierge planning and development consulting firm specializing in redevelopment and entitlement due diligence. Mr. Oris comes to the firm with over 25 years of experience in local government and government consulting with extensive proficiency in economic development and redevelopment planning, market analysis, grant writing, and special district administration. His experiences range from providing oversight and management of economic development, affordable housing, Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program, historic preservation efforts and management of seven (7) tax increment redevelopment districts as the Community Development Director of Martin County, Florida, to authoring numerous redevelopment-related plans for such locations as Fort Collins, Colorado, Summerton, South Carolina and the North Beach District of Miami Beach, Florida.

Jeff is a Past President of the Florida Redevelopment Association and remains one of the Association's key trainers and outreach speakers having presented at numerous statewide and national conferences on topics related to redevelopment, housing and economic development. He has a B.S in Labor Relations from Cornell University, a Master's degree in Public Administration from the Maxwell School at Syracuse University and holds the designation of Certified Economic Developer (CEcD) as conferred upon him by the International Economic Development Council.