Narrative description of Community Service of Nominee: Examples - Accomplishments of voluntary and/or unpaid work, intended to help the community and its residents, e.g., fundraising, collecting, and preparing, distributing, or serving others, etc. The number of residents impacted by the accomplishments, and years of public service.

Pastor Sanders has been a volunteer for years serving the residents of Hallandale Beach for decades. I initially met Pastor Sanders along with the late Pastor Timothy O. Burton Sr. He came to our church that had lost our pastor and gave his support. Our congregation was lost. He offered any assistance he could give with just meeting us for the first time. In 2011, I visited his church, Higher Vision Ministries for the first time. Many of our members became members of Higher Vision Ministries under the direction of Pastor Sanders. At the time, he would feed the community weekly. It was like family. Residents would call him often he never stopped working. Years later even after he was no longer a commissioner he would continue to assist residents. I would say that over 20,000 residents have been impacted by his good deeds. During the pandemic his church was a source for much needed PPE as well as food donations and even helping the kids in the community. He has dedicated decades of public service a voice to the voiceless.

Narrative description of Inclusiveness: Examples - Strong sense of connection to the cause work group, club or organization. Ensure that a cross-section of the community is engaged .

Pastor Sanders hosted annually the InterFaith National Day of Prayer with all of our houses of faith. Our city has been fortunate to come together with all walks of life and all faiths praying for our city together. Pastor Sanders would often be the voice for residents, when the neighborhoods didn't feel safe Pastor Sanders connected with the chief of police and our police for to connect with the residents to improve relationships among residents and law enforcement making our communities safer and more like home. He also advocated for the elderly like myself, he hosted a number of workshops that help seniors like me protect my home from being taken. He also has done work in the past with the late Josh Brown in providing scholarships to our High School Seniors at Hallandale High. He has always been a big supporter of education. When all else fails he always shows up and speaks up at the school board meetings on behalf of our kids at our Hallandale schools.

Narrative description of Collaboration: Examples - Community problem solving. May elect to contribute talents through specialized services. Establishment of partnerships with a wide variety of key stakeholders.

Pastor Sanders has been the champion in supporting residents even to this day there is not a call that goes unanswered. Even though he no longer is a commissioner he continues to serve our great city by advocating for the residents. Recently, a quality of life issue raised with a resident whose home was being negatively impacted by an illegal occupation of land and it was causing a health issue. Pastor Sanders was among those that stood by that resident to help her. He has also used his motivational speaking to impact the youth. He is an inspiration to all kids in our neighborhood. It is not often someone remains in the city they group up in and even though the landscape of our community has change he uses his knowledge to preserve Hallandale Beach legacy. He has established great partnerships that will answer the call to serve Hallandale Beach and we are all better for it.

Narrative description of Ethics (Honesty & Integrity): Examples - Trustworthy to the community. Committed to the group or organization and the cause or mission it represents. Engendering trust within the community.

Pastor Sanders lives what he says. He has and continues to do the right thing simply because it is the right thing to do. No matter if he comes under fire for it and has to stand alone he stands firm. That is the mark of integrity. Residents trust him because he keeps his word and goes above and beyond and if something is not possible he is honest about it and will help you find a way to meet your need. Pastor Sanders is who you go to when you need help and a solution. We are blessed to have him. He does all of this with little to no assistance and he takes it in stride. His character is impeachable and doesn't rest until the job is done. For over 25 years he has been the founder and pastor of The Vision Center (formerly Higher Vision Ministries). Through his ministry he and his family has served Hallandale Beach.

He has been a dedicated Alumni of the inaugural graduating class at Hallandale High School. He has raised funds to honor past athletes that have represented Hallandale High and ensuring the history has been properly documented. In the tough times, Pastor Sanders has supported families during their times of bereavement, often silently assisting families with final arrangements for families that cannot afford it. He has been a strong supporter of mental health in the faith space which has been much needed to those who would not have access to this invaluable service otherwise. In his most recent efforts, the community's historical wing at the Dr. Martin Luther King Dream Center (formerly known as Foster Park) continues to be preserved by PAL of Hallandale Beach. The name change was in part by a group of residents that came together by the organizing efforts of Pastor Sanders. He hosted various charettes for the community to offer everyone to have a voice. It led to the commission supporting the vote to rename the Center. This would not have been possible without the advocacy from Pastor Sanders. Between 1,000-2,000 residents benefit from the selfless work Pastor Sanders has done.

He began his community work as a deacon in the historic Greater Ebenezer Baptist Church, he later went on under the direction of the late and great Pastor Joe Cephus Johnson. Another community humanitarian, the Late and Great Pastor Joe C. Johnson was the spiritual father and mentor to Pastor Sanders. Pastor Sanders followed in his footsteps even beyond the passing of the gentle giant. Pastor Johnson affectionately referred to Pastor Sanders as his son. The historical Northwest quadrant of Hallandale Beach holds much significance. Earlier this year, Pastor Sanders connected all community partners, organizations and city government for the MLK Day Legacy Walk which began on Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Avenue and continued to Foster Road to culminate at the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Dream Center. This walk unified community through houses of faith in Hallandale Beach, police, organizations, community, as well as residents. The celebration continued with a commemoration of history and more. It took bringing the entire community together to protect the history of the Northwest community. Pastor Sanders also worked with the Hallandale High School 50th Anniversary & Class Reunion. The celebration marked another historical moment in Hallandale History of the official anniversary of the school. The celebration brought all past and present alumni together to celebrate our Hallandale High School. The celebration also renewed energy and interest into the Alumni group. Dr. Sanders truly leads the way for the next generation so Hallandale Beach can continue to move forward. He is a master connector; connecting those who may never otherwise be connected on their own. All of this for the benefit of Hallandale Beach.

What amazes more than a lot of things with this lady was. One weekend, she was in a hurry to get to the bank in order to get money in her pocket. If someone needs a few dollars from her, she could give them.

People would need medical transportation. If the application was not made on time, she would take them. She does not see color of people, she just wants to please her God.

She would sit in the hospitals as company for someone who had surgery. Individuals without family, she tries to get in touch with friends as associates to give a report on their recovery.

She gave the old gentleman her walker, he cane did not serve well. She has so much pleasure in doing and giving. Serving is her greatest joy. She is pleasing God. She is working to be told well done, you good and faithful servant. The more she gives, the more she gets giving her life to serve in every way possible.

Narrative description of Community Service of Nominee: Examples - Accomplishments of voluntary and/or unpaid work, intended to help the community and its residents, e.g., fundraising, collecting, and preparing, distributing, or serving others, etc. The number of residents impacted by the accomplishments, and years of public service.

Irvon has spent the last seven years pouring himself into the Hallandale Beach community in ways that have touched thousands of lives. He has a heart for young people and families, and it shows in the programs he's created and the time he's given. What makes his service so meaningful is that it isn't about recognition or reward, it's about making sure people have what they need and feel supported.

Through the Entrepreneur Education & Development Center, Inc., he started Shop With a Boss, which gives children not only the chance to shop during the holidays but also the chance to learn how to manage money. He also created BeyondCon, a youth entrepreneur conference that brings teenagers face to face with business leaders and professionals who inspire them to dream bigger. Together, these programs have reached more than 2,000 young people and families, giving them opportunities and experiences they would not have had otherwise.

As President of the Charger Pride Alumni & Friends Association, Irvon has worked hard to reconnect alumni to the school and channel their support back into scholarships and mentorship for students. Whether it's organizing alumni gatherings, planning appreciation events, or finding ways to lift up the next generation, his commitment to service is steady and genuine. The community knows they can count on him because he has consistently shown up to meet needs, build opportunities, and create hope.

Narrative description of Inclusiveness: Examples - Strong sense of connection to the cause work group, club or organization. Ensure that a cross-section of the community is engaged .

What stands out most about Irvon is the way he makes everyone feel like they belong. His programs and events are never just about one group of people , he works to bring together students, parents, alumni, businesses, and community partners so that everyone feels a part of the work. He believes that lasting change only happens when the whole community is involved, and he lives that out in everything he does.

At BeyondCon, for example, students don't just hear from one type of leader. They get to learn from entrepreneurs, educators, and professionals from all walks of life, and they see major organizations like Florida Power & Light and the Children's Services Council of Broward County standing alongside them. That kind of diversity and inclusiveness shows young people that they have a whole community invested in their success.

The same is true with his role in the Charger Pride Alumni & Friends Association. Irvon brings together graduates from different classes and backgrounds, uniting them around the shared goal of supporting today's students. By weaving together voices from across the community, he makes sure that no one feels left out and that everyone has a role in moving things forward.

Narrative description of Collaboration: Examples - Community problem solving. May elect to contribute talents through specialized services. Establishment of partnerships with a wide variety of key stakeholders.

As Irvon's sister, I've had the privilege of watching his work in the community up close, and I can honestly say he has a gift for bringing people together. He doesn't just run programs, he finds a way to connect people from every corner of the community so that what he's doing becomes something we're all a part of.

I've seen him call on alumni, business leaders, and even neighbors to make sure young people in Hallandale Beach have opportunities that many of us didn't have growing up. With Shop With a Boss, he not only provides families with financial help during the holidays, but he also gets community members involved as mentors and role models. With BeyondCon, I've watched him gather students, entrepreneurs, and even major supporters like Florida Power & Light and the Children's Services Council of Broward County to pour into these kids, teaching them about leadership, business, and believing in themselves.

What stands out the most is that Irvon never tries to do it all by himself. He knows that lasting change happens when everyone has a role, and he makes sure people feel valued when they step in to help. Whether it's alumni giving their time, sponsors giving resources, or students lending their voices, he knows how to weave it all together. That's the kind of collaboration he has built his work on and it's why his impact reaches so far beyond just his own hands.

Narrative description of Ethics (Honesty & Integrity): Examples - Trustworthy to the community. Committed to the group or organization and the cause or mission it represents. Engendering trust within the community.

If there's one thing I can say about Irvon, it's that he is a man of his word. When he commits to something, you can trust it will be done with excellence and with the right intentions. I've seen him work late nights, put his own needs aside, and even use his own resources to make sure programs and events happen for the young people and families he serves. He never takes shortcuts. He believes in doing things the right way, even if it takes longer or costs more.

The community trusts him because he has earned that trust. Parents know that when their children are involved in one of his programs, they will be safe, cared for, and inspired. Alumni know that when he calls on them to come back and support, the money raised is going straight into scholarships and opportunities for students. Businesses and sponsors know that when they partner with him, he represents their support with transparency and accountability.

What makes him stand out is that his honesty isn't just in the big things. It shows in the little things too. He follows up when he says he will and always gives credit to the people who help him. His work has been built on this foundation of integrity. That's why people continue to show up for him—because he has consistently shown up for them, with honesty, humility, and an unshakable commitment to the causes he represents.

Narrative description of Community Service of Nominee: Examples - Accomplishments of voluntary and/or unpaid work, intended to help the community and its residents, e.g., fundraising, collecting, and preparing, distributing, or serving others, etc. The number of residents impacted by the accomplishments, and years of public service.

Tony has been a barber in the Hallandale Beach Community for decades. He is not just a business man; he is a leader of voluntary community services. Annually he participates in the City of Hallandale Beach Parks and Recreation Back to School Event by providing free haircuts to hundreds of children in need. Tony will not leave the event until every child's hair is cut so that they are prepared to attend the new school year. Tony understands the immeasurable value in providing the student's with free haircuts that many families are unable to afford in today's economic climate.

Tony realizes the accomplishments of his voluntary service in giving haircuts to the Hallandale Beach students. For children, the psychological behind looking good and feeling good reflects the interconnections of appearance, self-esteem, personal growth and the ability to learn and succeed in school.

Tony grasps how not having a proper haircut often target students of color, along with prohibiting hairstyles that are intertwined with students' cultural identities, can sometime hinder their learning experience.

Narrative description of Inclusiveness: Examples - Strong sense of connection to the cause work group, club or organization. Ensure that a cross-section of the community is engaged .

Tony's understands the need for children to look good, so they are productive as student's in school Therefore, each year he has partnered with the City to ensure this need and gap in service is met. Many are not aware, but Tony allows his barber shop to be a place where the homeless can also come to get a hair cut, utilize his bathroom facility and his phone to connect them to their family, medical appointments, etc. Tony is the quiet unsung hero who is overdue for recognition.

Narrative description of Collaboration: Examples - Community problem solving. May elect to contribute talents through specialized services. Establishment of partnerships with a wide variety of key stakeholders.

Tony loves the Hallandale Beach Community. He collaborates annually to make sure the children in Hallandale Beach receive a free haircut through the collaborative Back to School Event provided by the City of Hallandale Beach Parks and Recreation Department. He also stayed involved and collaborated to ensure the MLK festivities continued for 2025.

Narrative description of Ethics (Honesty & Integrity): Examples - Trustworthy to the community. Committed to the group or organization and the cause or mission it represents. Engendering trust within the community.

Tony is a man of honor, value, integrity and humility. Tony's character speaks volume in the way he gives back to the community; not just annually - but daily. For the reason's listed in this application. Tony should be the Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Humanitarian Award recipient for his so many acts of kindness and his collaborative efforts to ensure those in need are provided the support needed.
